Contra Costa County Firefighters Help Raise Money for Local Schools

Contra Costa County Firefighters donated a "Dinner in the Firehouse" to Hidden Valley Elementary in Martinez as part of their on-going program to help schools in the community raise money. On Monday May 9th a group of 8 people attended a dinner at Fire Station 7 in Walnut Creek. The dinner was donated as an auction item for a fundraising event held recently for Hidden Valley Elementary. The group which won the auction donated over $500 and was treated to a firehouse meal cooked by the on duty firefighters. As fate would have it retired Chief Campos from the Contra Costa County Fire Protection District was one of the attendees.

The Contra Costa County Fire Protection District and Contra Costa County Professional Firefighters have committed to hosting several dinners throughout the year and are hoping to help schools and other non-profit organizations raise over $10,000.

More information on this community based fundraising effort is available by contacting the Contra Costa County Professional Firefighters at 925-932-1230.
